OUR STORY

Tumio means you, Tumio means me and Tumio means all of us.

The conceptual foundation of Tumio comes from our belief that the future of our global society depends on shared connectivity, integration and communication. We decided to harness the power of technology so that people can come together and work from a single platform irrespective of all geographic and socio-economic disparities as well as technological barriers.

Our mission is to empower every people to grow into their own dreams of socio-economic success and more, and to make friends globally to exchange usable knowledge and creative thoughts.

Team Tumio is passionate and likes to embrace adventure thoughtfully. Together we are deeply committed in positioning our creation as one of the leading social e-market place application primarily in India and then across the world.

We are curious and want to understand every user need as deeply as possible, uncovering the reasons behind the reasons. Our plan is to walk ahead in the path of innovation using machine learning and big data analytics to connect and empower our users more meaningfully and efficiently.
